TRWC 2027 MEMBERSHIP GUIDELINES

The Texas Rangers Women's Club is an independent working organization which promotes fellowship among its members, generating enthusiasm for the Texas Rangers Baseball Club, enables peoples from various community groups to enjoy baseball through funds raised by Ways and Means projects, and assist with distribution of promotions for the Texas Rangers Baseball Club. The Texas Rangers Women's Club is a vendor who is paid by the Texas Rangers Baseball Club.

The Texas Rangers provide payment to our Club for working at the gates on game days when there is a promotional give away or sponsor distribution. We also receive payment for working Theme Nights, Foundation Room and Rev Entertainment. The money earned is used to help pay for costs associated with HDAP orientation, special activities, and club parties. Without these earnings, all costs for Club activities would have to be paid by the members. Along with the payment from the Texas Rangers, we get some of the extra perks that their seasonal employees receive.

The TRWC does not want to discourage anyone from joining the Club. However, being a member is a commitment and you must be 18 years or older.

A member is considered in good standings by adhering to policy and procedure and actively participating in Club functions such as general meetings and outings; being in a team; and working the minimum club points at the Ballpark. To be eligible to attend the Special Lunch and work Playoffs and World Series a member must work the minimum points required.

To maintain membership, a member will be required to work and earn the minimum required points during the regular season if physically able. Working for only the minimum number of games does not guarantee membership renewal for the following year. A member may appeal to the Executive Board to get a possible exemption from the minimum work requirement for health or other issues. She must notify the Board at the time of the issue or illness in writing.

Point status will determine if a member may be included in working playoff games, attending Texas Ranger events, and participating in TRWC outings if there is limited space available.

If a member's conduct is unbecoming of the Club Bylaws, Policies & Procedures or by the Texas Rangers Guest Code of Conduct, her membership will be reviewed, and possible termination will occur before the end of the year. This does not replace but is in addition to the Conduct Compliance Violation and Disciplinary Action of the TRWC bylaws.

In the final months of its tenure, the outgoing TRWC board will review the membership for the current season and determine members who did not meet the expectations of these guidelines.

By signing below, I acknowledge that I have read and understand these guidelines.
